About Arjen de Pril

Arjen de Pril is a lawyer at AKD. He advises national and international clients on corporate law and particularly mergers and acquisitions. He has been involved in various national and international transactions, including strategic acquisitions, auctions and private equity deals, as well as share and asset transactions, investments and joint ventures.

Another aspect of his work involves drawing up of sale and shareholder agreements and assessing these. He also coordinates legal due diligence studies and provides advice on company law.

His clients are primarily strategic parties, in both the role of purchaser and vendor. They appreciate his structured and practical approach.
