About Harrison Nkrumah

Harrison is a lawyer at AKD. He offers national and international clients assistance on a variety of complex cross-border finance transactions relating to secured lending (i.e. all types of loans, credit facility and agreement, and relating security arrangements), structured finance (esp. securization), the debt capital market (private and public issuance, listing on regulated and alternative capital markets), the structuring of non- or slightly-regulated investment vehicles and FinTech topics.

Harrison has gained experience in assisting in the preparation of legal documentation such as opinion letters, corporate approvals, manager's/director's certificates and incorporation of companies/SPVs. He also does legal research and assists in drafting and reviewing loan and facility agreements, security packages, and debt instruments documentation.
