About Heleen Franco

Heleen Franco is an attorney-at-law at AKD. She specialises in individual and collective labour law. She regularly advises national and multinational companies on such subjects as reorganisations, individual dismissals, international mobility (including immigration), working hours and the employment law aspects of M&A transactions.

Heleen takes a special interest in supplementary pension schemes. Pension issues, including the pension law aspects of M&A deals, are another field on which she routinely advises clients. In 2021, Heleen completed the specialist post-academic course in pension law at the Catholic University of Louvain (Belgium).

In addition, she has gained ample expertise in the area of data protection with a focus on HR.
