About Jip Post

Jip Post is an attorney-at-law at AKD who specialises in real estate development, construction law and procurement law.

Jip advises and litigates for various national and international clients such as developers, asset and property managers, investors and contractors on all aspects of Dutch real estate. In addition, drafting and negotiating international (real estate) agreements is a common part of his practice. He also assists his clients with real estate transactions and in conducting domestic and European procurement procedures in various sectors.

Jip is part of AKD's international construction and real estate team, which enables him to serve clients from various jurisdictions.
