About Reinier Cobussen

Reinier Cobussen - Schreuder is a lawyer at AKD who specialises in international private international law and property law. He advises and represents clients in cases involving complex international trade flows whereby the emphasis is on international procurement and distribution relations.

Reinier's clients include companies in manufacturing and logistics and they appreciate his know-how and pragmatic attitude. In addition to his work at AKD Reinier worked as a lecturer in private law at several Dutch universities. During this period he also carried out research into private law at international law level.
